MILANO IN PROGRESS

Non-stop performance, video and testimonials from Milano's creative businesses.

Milano in Progress was an exploration of our city offering an up-to-date view of creative and technological research applied to the development of digital contents. The event emphasized the importance of creative talents as a key element in the development of Milan.

From graphics to design, from multimedia services to audiovisual production, Milano in Progress was an occasion to understand how technological innovation is inherent to Milan DNA.

Nineteen selected companies presented their activities in a five-minutes message. The public voted for the most innovative presentation. The winners were:

Kallideas, creator of virtual assistants

Co-Creando, a design firm that works with an international network of consultants

They were awarded by Il Sole 24Ore Newspaper, a space in Cre-Attivi section of the JOBTalk blog.
